The Civil Contractors Federation

WSROC Group Apprentices is pleased to announce the partnering with The Civil Contractors Federation (CCF) to assist in the promotion of New Apprenticeships within the civil construction industry. The CCF is the representative body of civil engineering contractors in Australia providing assistance and expertise in contractor development and industry issues. We are hoping that this association will increase the training opportunities in the Civil Construction industry, and increase the scope of companies working with WSROC Group Apprentices.

Addressing the skills shortage in industry

WSROC Group Apprentices is proud to announce that Jeff Westwood has joined our team. He will be driving the service delivery of WSROC Group Apprentices. With 17 years experience in Group Training and a resident of the Central Coast for 25 years, Jeff is looking forward to continuing to provide Group Training Services to the Central Coast. "I enjoy working with New Apprentices and Businesses in the area," Jeff said. "It will be good to continue servicing the area, I think that WSROC Group Apprentices has a great deal to offer." We hope that the increased focus on the Central Coast will only enhance the opportunities available to potential New Apprentices and businesses in the Central Coast.

New Host Highlight

The number of companies using WSROC Group Apprentices is continuing to increase. As a result some of Australia's most exciting companies have come on board, including Komatsu Australia. Komatsu supplies and supports products in such diverse sectors as Mining, Civil contractors, Quarries, Forestry and Farming. Komatsu has engaged Automotive Heavy Vehicle Mechanics through WSROC. It is companies like Komatsu, with their commitment and depth of training, that provides our apprentices with such promising futures.

Workplace Safety

WSROC Group Apprentices has a strong commitment to Workplace Safety. Changes have been implemented to better manage our injured workers. All Apprenticeship Support Managers (ASM) are now Return to Work Coordinators accredited through WorkCover NSW. If an employee of WSROC Group Apprentices is injured, the ASM will be the first point of contact and continue to manage the injured workers programme back to pre-injury status. This will include actively consulting with your doctor and Host Training Company to identify suitable duties, should there be restrictions on your work assignment. An effective Return to Work programme assists injured employees gradually get back to their normal duties, while giving them time to heal without impacting on their injury, and provides meaningful work for you and your host company.
